Prayer for Fathers

God our Father, we praise You for saving us through Your Son, Jesus Christ, who taught us to live by Your commandments. Bless our fathers, and deepen their love for their families. Guide them with the example of St. Joseph, the faithful husband of Mary. May all fathers lead their children to follow Your Son, Jesus, by their work, example and prayer. # Planning A Catholic Funeral

Planning ahead for your Catholic funeral is an important step. By planning ahead, you can have peace of mind knowing that your funeral will be celebrated according to your wishes and desires as a faithful Catholic. Speak to your family about your plans, and write them down, making sure that a close relative or friend knows your wishes and has a copy. Your loved ones can then be spared the burdens and stresses of planning during a time of grief. Both you and your family can be secure in the knowledge that your intentions will be honoured.

End of Life planning, whether in a time of need, or when you pre-arrange, involves a number of steps.

The portion of the planning specific to the funeral liturgy itself is done with the Parish. When death has occurred, it is here that a meaningful interaction can occur between the Church and those who are grieving a loss. It is at the Parish that the selection of readings and music is organized, along with plans to share about the life of the deceased. The Priest is able to minister to the immediately bereaved, helping them to see how the Church consoles them in their faith.

This step of planning with the parish can also provide insight as to how God's healing grace unfolds within the "Ritual Moments" throughout a Catholic funeral. With this greater comprehension, ideally families gain greater understanding as to the importance of including all of these moments in the Catholic funeral plan.

Your local funeral home can assist with pre-arrangement of funeral and burial plans. Our Catholic funeral rites unfold offering praise, worship and thanksgiving to God for the gift of a life now returned to God. In these rites we affirm and express our union with Christ in life and in death. The rites bring hope and consolation to the living and allow us to recall God's mercy and judgment, helping us to turn always to God. If an executor is unaware of these rites and their purpose, they may be missed during funeral planning.

The Ritual Moments within a Catholic Funeral

Following death, the Church accompanies those who mourn the death of a loved one in three ritual moments of prayer for the dying and those who mourn their loss. They express our Catholic faith about death and the promise of eternal life.

The Vigil

The Vigil includes readings from scripture, prayers and a time of quiet reflection. Reflections may be shared in remembrance of the deceased ("eulogy").

The Mass

The funeral Mass is the central celebration of a Catholic funeral. It includes the Liturgy of The Word and the Liturgy of the Eucharist. It is celebrated in the parish Church. During the course of the funeral liturgy we see the use of a number of meaningful symbols: the pall, holy water, a Paschal Candle. All are used to express our faith in Christ's victory over sin and death by his resurrection and our hope in the promise of eternal life.

The Interment

The final act of the community of faith in caring for the body of its deceased member. In this rite is expressed the hope that the deceased awaits the glory of the resurrection and the communion that exists between the Church on earth and the Church in heaven. This rite includes prayers and intercessions, and the committal to the final resting place (the ground, the mausoleum, or columbarium), blessing and dismissal.

Funeral for 3 Canadian Martyrs School Students

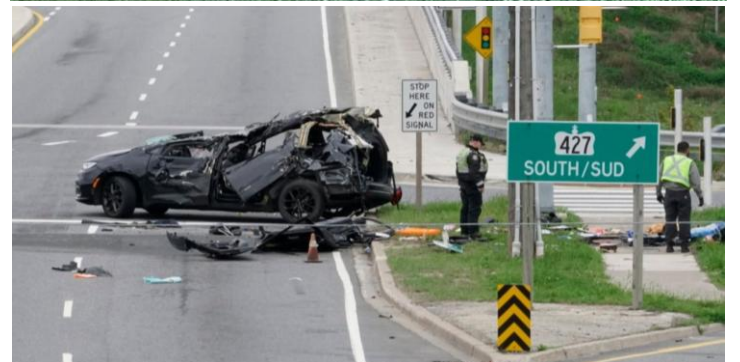

The three siblings killed in a suspected impaired driving crash in Etobicoke were remembered at a memorial Mass on 22 May. They cannot be identified due to a court-ordered publication ban.

Family members, students and teachers at Canadian Martyrs Catholic School, where the three children attended, gathered at the Church next door for the Mass. Their aunt, Jenelle Galve, said that “The Mass was beautiful. Those kids deserved to have a beautiful service. She thanked the school staff for organizing the Mass. “We all came as a collective because we believe that these kids deserve justice. Our coming together as a community shows that we are strong enough to deal with what comes next.”

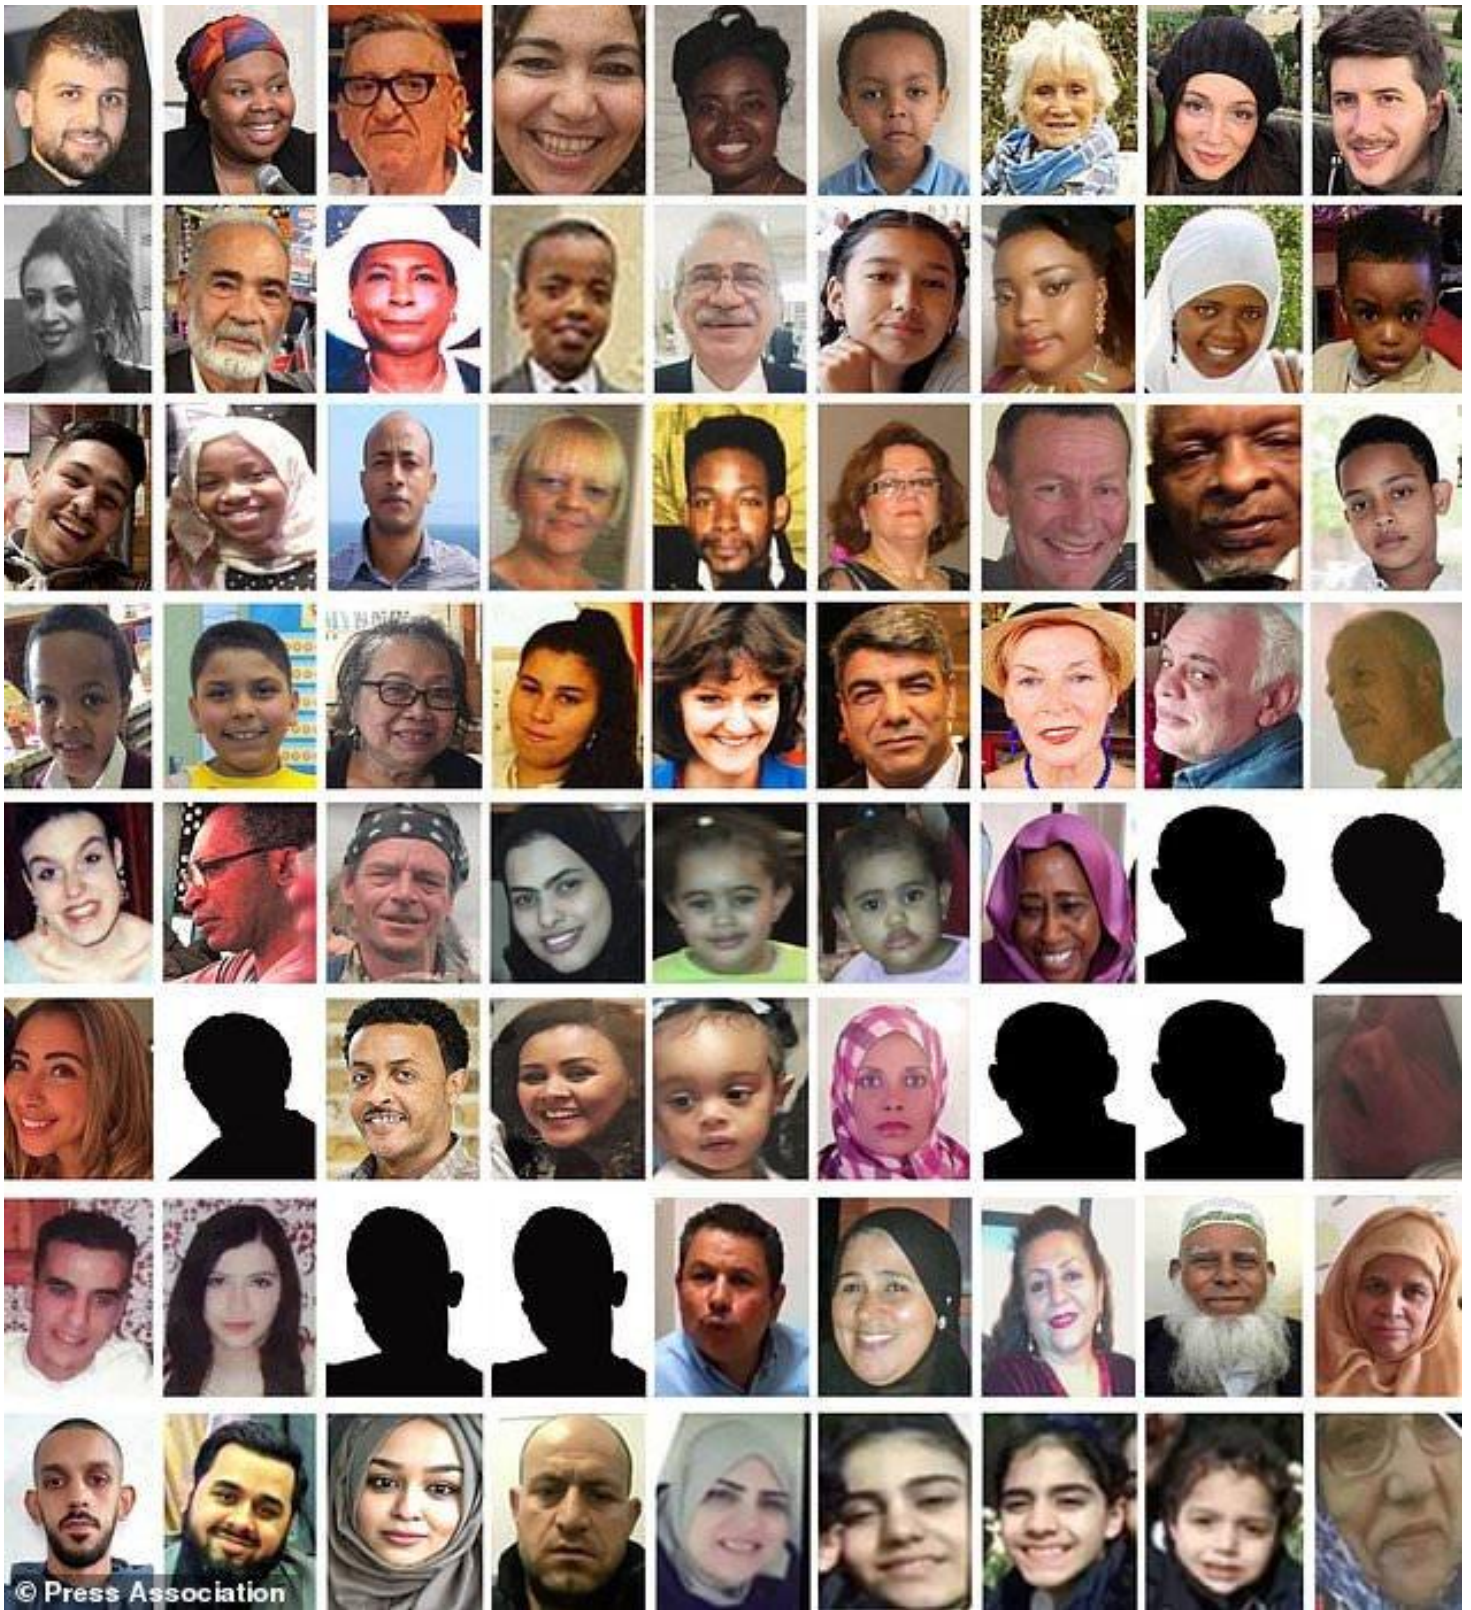

The three children, a 15-year-old boy, his 13-year-old brother and his six-year-old sister, were loving and joyful. Jenelle said that the youngest loved doing cartwheels during recess and “made all the kids happy.” The 13-year-old was remembered as being “very competitive” in basketball, while the eldest was known as a leader. The support they have received is helping the family heal. Jenelle said, “We are grieving. We’re all grieving together for the loss of the children. Nothing can explain the loss that we have.”

The children’s mother and their 10-year-old sibling remain in the hospital recovering. The family was coming home from watching fireworks in Milton when the crash occurred in the early morning of 18 May. A 19-year-old man driving a Dodge Caravan was allegedly travelling at a high rate of speed as he exited Highway 401 on Renforth Drive and lost control, colliding with the family’s Chrysler Pacifica, which was stopped at a red light.

The driver, who is from Georgetown, was arrested and charged with a dozen offences, including impaired driving and dangerous driving. Near the scene, flowers have been placed at a growing memorial. Retired teacher Tammi Upshaw, who attended the funeral Mass, knew the 15-year-old boy. She said, “It’s one of the worst tragedies. It’s just so sad. To lose three of your children at one time. Very sad.”
